“The Original Camp for Elite Academic Student Athletes”

Who: Top flight academic student athletes entering Junior, Senior, and Post-Graduate years (September 2012)

What: The Original All Academic Camp

When: July 13-15, 2012

Where: Brandeis University, Waltham, MA

Why: To compete against the best student athletes in the country and to gain maximum exposure to the country's top academic institutions

Mission Statement: The mission of the All Academic Camp presented by Hoop Mountain is to provide top level student athletes with a venue to showcase their basketball talents. Our goal is to provide the very best student athletes from around the globe an opportunity to be seen by the best academic institutions in the country. This relationship will reward special student athletes for their academic and athletic abilities and achievements.

Maximum Exposure

- Last year the All Academic Camp had over 150 college coaches and scouts in attendance.
- The camp is recruited by the top academic/athletic schools in the country (Division I, II, and III).
- Scouting report representatives from Scout.com, the National Prep School and High School Scouting Report, and New England Recruiting Report were in attendance in 2008.
- President of Hoop Mountain, Steven Gibbs serves on the committee for the McDonald's All American Game and nominates players for the Hoop Mountain Prime Time All Star Game

The Educational and Informational Advantage at The All Academic Camp

- Information sessions on SAT and ACT preparation
- Information sessions on how to become a recruitable athlete at top academic universities
- Information session on what college coaches look for in student athletes
- Current college players will talk about how to balance athletic and academic responsibilities at elite schools
- The expert staff will help players understand how to find the right athletic/academic fit in college

Admission for the All Academic Camp

Criteria: In order to be considered for the All Academic Camp presented by Hoop Mountain a player needs a minimum GPA of 3.2/4.0 (un-weighted) and an SAT score (Math/Critical Thinking) of 1150 or an ACT score of 23 or higher.

Cost: $525 per player (registrations after May 1st will be $575)

Mail Registration along with a copy of the camper's transcript to: All Academic Camp, PO Box 7068, Beverly, MA 01915

T.J. Sorrentine, Brown University closely evaluating Ivy League prospects at camp.

"With more than 150 college coaches and scouts in attendance at camp this past summer, the All Academic Camp presented by Hoop Mountain is the best place to be seen by elite academic schools. The visibility for the players is amazing and the level of play is top-notch!"
Adam Finkelstein, Managing Partner, New England Recruiting Report

➤ What they are saying....

"We absolutely love the concept of the All Academic Camp, because we believe it mutually benefits the Universities and more importantly the student-athletes...We look forward to attending in the future."

Kevin Stallings, Head Coach,
Vanderbilt University

"The All Academic Camp presented by Hoop Mountain is a great camp. There are lots of quality players with excellent grades...this will be a must stop event for years to come."

Dave Paulsen, Head Coach,
Bucknell University

"The All Academic Camp presented by Hoop Mountain has become a must attend event for all highly selective colleges and universities in the country."

Bob Sheldon, Head Coach,
Tufts University

"The All Academic Camp is a must attend event for any coach at a top academic school...any player who wants to be evaluated by the top academic schools needs to be at this event!"

Brian Meehan, Head Coach,
Brandeis University

"...Hoop Mountain has managed to make this a 'must attend' camp for all college coaches. We were able to watch a number of talented prospects with strong academic resumes and we plan on being in attendance for as long as the camp is running."

Mike Martin, Assistant Coach, UPENN

Chris Millette and Matt Malone from Tufts discussing players at camp

"Thank you Hoop Mountain for putting on a first class event this past weekend at Brandeis. Your event was a valuable stop for our program during the month of July."

Tim Sweeney, Assistant Coach,
Elon University

Why attend the All Academic Camp...

- The All Academic Camp was the first of its kind in the country. Many have tried to copy the camp, but none are even close to the original in terms of quality.
- The All Academic Camp attracts over 100 college coaches from around the country each year.
- The All Academic Camp is just a 15 minute drive from Logan International Airport in Boston, which allows easy access for our college scouts and players.
- The All Academic Camp has NESCAC, UAA, NEWMAC, and Liberty League coaches on staff.
- The All Academic Camp attracts student athletes from around the country. Last year 19 states and 4 countries were represented at the camp.
- The All Academic Camp will get you the exposure you need to play at a top flight academic school.

Camp Director Profiles

Steve Gibbs, Director

Steve Gibbs is the President and founder of Hoop Mountain, Inc. Steve founded Hoop Mountain in 1985 and has allowed it to grow into an elite basketball enterprise. Steve served as the co-founder of the well respected prep basketball magazine, High School Hoop. Steve also formed the High School Hoop Scouting Report, which was a huge hit with college basketball scouts around the country. Steve has written articles for the prestigious Eastern Basketball Magazine, has appeared many times on Sports Channel basketball shows, and has hosted various cable and radio sport shows. Steve nominates high school basketball players for the McDonald's All American game. Recently, Steve has signed on with the National High School and Prep School Scouting Report, which will give every Hoop Mountain camper an opportunity to receive national exposure.

Greg Kristof, Director

Greg Kristof is a managing partner at Hoop Mountain, Inc. Kristof is the director of Hoop Mountain New York as well as Hoop Mountain Personal Instruction. In addition, Kristof is the co-editor of the National High School and Prep School Scouting Report. Kristof has helped establish Hoop Mountain Franchises in California, Florida, Maryland, Illinois, North Carolina, Kansas, Georgia, New Jersey, Virginia, and New York. Greg was a four year varsity letter winner at Brandeis University and a team captain for two years. Kristof was a member of the University Athletic Association All-Academic team for three years. Kristof was a 1,000 point scorer at Medfield High School and league all-star for three years.

Brian Meehan, Director

Brian Meehan is the 11th men's basketball coach in Brandeis history. Meehan arrived at Brandeis in 2003 after 10 years at Salem State College. He served as an assistant coach at Salem State from 1993 to 1996, when he became head coach. In his seven years at the helm, Meehan compiled an outstanding 160-39 record, including 87-10 in conference play. His .804 winning percentage is the highest among active Division III coaches with at least five years experience.

Jay Tilton, Head Commissioner

Jay Tilton is in his tenth year as the boy's basketball coach and associate director of admissions at the prestigious Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, NH. Phillips Exeter is a Class "A" New England Prep School that competes against some of the top Prep Programs in the country. Prior to working at Phillips Exeter, Tilton was an assistant coach at Division I, Dartmouth College, which is in the Ivy League. Recently, Tilton has helped place players at schools such as Davidson, UPENN, Stanford, Bates, Yale, Colby College, MIT, Williams, Tufts, and Brandeis. Tilton's focus and expertise is on player development, as well as articulating to players what tools they need to get to the next level.

Chris Millette, Commissioner

Chris Millette is the head boy's basketball coach at Tabor Academy and is one of the top coaches in the New England Prep School Ranks. He has helped place countless players get placed at the Division I, II, and III level. Before taking over at Tabor, Chris was the head Men's basketball coach at Endicott University and the associate head coach at Brandeis University. Chris is well known both on the national and regional stage for being a great skill developer and evaluator of talent.
